As the Rotary year ends, we are asking each member to make an additional contribution to TRF. We are offering matching points for your donation that will take you to the next Paul Harris Fellow level. Members present received a printout of their current giving status. Others were mailed copies and a few others received them by email. If you did not receive your copy, please let us know.

We are also asking those who have not begun to support the Foundation yet, to give a minimum contribution of $25.

Your decisions are needed by June 12 in order to allow time to complete all paperwork.

A Changing Rotary for a Changing World

From Rotary International General Secretary John Hewko

Rotary's long-term membership strategy aims to attract a diverse set of new leaders who share our commitment and vision for creating lasting change while also making the club experience more engaging so even more of our current members stay.

The first step to strengthening Rotary is to adapt to today's realities and challenges, so we remain relevant to current and prospective members.

Many clubs are implementing innovative ways to involve members and the community in Rotary. Whether they do it by creating new membership types, starting new clubs that accommodate busy schedules and different interests, or thoughtfully reexamining the style and frequency of their meetings, these clubs are discovering the value of changing to meet the diverse needs of today's business, community, and civic leaders. To explore and find your own innovative solutions visit rotary.org/flexibility for examples, FAQ, and other resources.

The manage membership leads program helps Rotarians connect with prospective members, relocating members, and those referred by current Rotarians. We received more than 15,000 membership inquiries this year, which resulted in about four new members joining Rotary each day.
